Students love it. Teachers love it. Book Creator is the easiest and most inclusive way to create content in class. Education is changing. Bring creativity to your class with Book Creator, the only app you need for any topic or degree level. Combine text, images, audio and video to create: Interactive Stories Digital Wallets Reviews of research Poetry Books Scientific Reports Manual instruction 'On Books of Me' Comic Adventures No matter what subject or level of degree you are teaching, students can demonstrate their understanding by creating a book. Here are some great examples: See other examples of students Writing a book is a fantastic way to make connections in learning. Students create a finished product, giving them a platform to share their learning with colleagues or others. Case study: Putting the publication in the hands of the students My students are creating a resource that will be available for download worldwide. This is authentic learning at its best. My students have a voice. Jane Ross, Digital Literacy Coach Giving students a public beyond the teacher can be extremely motivational. And if students are not safe writers, why don't they record their voice instead? Case study: Using Book Creator to support students with autism I explained to students who would soon be authors published globally. They were so excited about their book that was contagious. Jon Smith, technology integration specialist Most textbooks simply do not cover all the unusual ways and methods we use to learn. What better way to show than to write these textbooks ourselves? Case study: Using Book Creator for Mathematics Author Book Creator provided such an easy platform from The ability of students to create and share audio and visual content really engages "student voice and choice" in mathematical class!
